Yahshua Is the Father

The Covenant, the Divorce, and the Redemption

A covenantal study of why the Husband of Israel had to come in the flesh, die, and rise in order to lawfully bring His bride home.

KINGDOM LIFE MINISTRY

Restoring YHWH's design for marriage, family, forgiveness, and deliverance

How to Read This Study

This is not a study about a doctrine. It is a study about a marriage.

Scripture does not present redemption as a legal transaction between strangers. It presents it as a husband recovering a wife who left him. Once you see the covenant as a marriage, the divorce as a real divorce, and the redemption as a lawful remarriage, the identity of Yahshua stops being an abstract debate and becomes the only thing that makes the story work.

Every reference in this study has been checked. Quotations follow the World English Bible, which is in the public domain, with the Name restored as YHWH, Elohim in place of God, Yahshua in place of Jesus, Messiah in place of Christ, and Torah or instructions in place of law. Read every passage in your own copy. Do not take this study's word for anything.

A WORD ON TONE

If you hold a different position on this, you are welcome here. This study makes its case from the text and it names its own hard passages instead of hiding them. Weigh it. Test it. Bring your objections. Truth does not need to be protected from questions.

PART ONE

The Roles YHWH Keeps for Himself Alone

Before Yahshua is ever mentioned, Scripture locks certain roles down as belonging to YHWH and to no one else. This is the foundation. If it does not hold, nothing after it holds.

YHWH is the Husband of Israel

Isaiah 54:5

"For your Maker is your husband; YHWH of Armies is his name. The Holy One of Israel is your Redeemer. He will be called the Elohim of the whole earth."

One verse, two titles, one person. Husband and Redeemer. Hold that together, because Part Six turns on it.

Jeremiah 31:32

YHWH speaks of "my covenant which they broke, although I was a husband to them."

Ezekiel 16:8

"I swore to you, and entered into a covenant with you, says the Lord YHWH, and you became mine."

Hosea 2:16

"In that day, says YHWH, you will call me 'my husband,' and no longer call me 'my master.'"

See also Jeremiah 3:14, "for I am a husband to you."

YHWH is the only Savior

Isaiah 43:11

"I myself am YHWH. Besides me, there is no savior."

Hosea 13:4

"you shall acknowledge no Elohim but me, and besides me there is no savior."

See also Isaiah 45:21, "a just El and a Savior. There is no one besides me."

YHWH is the only Redeemer, and He worked alone

Isaiah 44:24

"YHWH, your Redeemer, and he who formed you from the womb says: 'I am YHWH, who makes all things; who alone stretches out the heavens; who spreads out the earth by myself.'"

The Hebrew behind "by myself" is l'vadi. Alone. No helper. No second party. No agent standing beside Him. That single word does more work in this study than any other word in the Tanakh.

Isaiah 63:16

"You, YHWH, are our Father. Our Redeemer from everlasting is your name."

Father and Redeemer. Same sentence. Same being.

YHWH is the First and the Last

Isaiah 44:6

"This is what YHWH, the King of Israel, and his Redeemer, YHWH of Armies, says: 'I am the first, and I am the last; and besides me there is no Elohim.'"

See also Isaiah 41:4 and Isaiah 48:12.

YHWH will not share His glory

Isaiah 42:8

"I am YHWH. That is my name. I will not give my glory to another, nor my praise to engraved images."

Repeated in Isaiah 48:11. Whatever else is true, the glory and worship that belong to YHWH cannot lawfully land on a created being. Remember that when you reach Part Four.

PART TWO

Every One of Those Roles Lands on Yahshua

Husband and Bridegroom

- John 3:29, John the Immerser calls Yahshua the bridegroom and calls himself only the friend of the bridegroom.
- Matthew 9:15, Yahshua calls Himself the bridegroom.
- Ephesians 5:25 to 32, Messiah is the husband, the assembly is the bride, and Paul calls it a great mystery.
- 2 Corinthians 11:2, Paul betrothed the assembly to one husband, Messiah.
- Revelation 19:7 to 9, the marriage of the Lamb, the bride made ready, the marriage supper.

YHWH said He is the husband of Israel. If Yahshua is a different being who is also the husband of Israel, then Israel now has two husbands. That is not a mystery. That is a violation of the very instructions the Husband gave her.

Savior

Titus 2:13

"our great Elohim and Savior, Yahshua Messiah."

This is the strongest one grammatically. In the Greek a single article governs both nouns, a construction that describes one person, not two. The same construction appears in 2 Peter 1:1, "our Elohim and Savior, Yahshua Messiah."

Acts 4:12

"There is no other name under heaven that is given among men, by which we must be saved."

Redeemer

- Galatians 3:13, "Messiah redeemed us from the curse of the Torah, having become a curse for us."
- Titus 2:14, "that he might redeem us from all lawlessness."
- Revelation 5:9, "you were killed, and bought us for Elohim with your blood."
- 1 Peter 1:18 to 19, redeemed not with silver or gold but with the precious blood of Messiah.
- Acts 20:28, the assembly "which he purchased with his own blood."

First and Last

Revelation 1:17 to 18

"I am the first and the last, and the Living one. I was dead, and behold, I am alive forever and ever."

Read those two sentences together. Isaiah 44:6 says the First and the Last is YHWH and there is no Elohim besides Him. Revelation

1:18 says that same First and Last died and came back. The one who cannot be anyone but YHWH is the one who went into the grave. That is this entire study in two verses.

See also Revelation 2:8 and Revelation 22:12 to 13, where verse 16 names the speaker as Yahshua.

The glory He said He would not share

John 17:5

"glorify me with your own self with the glory which I had with you before the world existed."

Set that beside Isaiah 42:8. Either YHWH broke His own word, or the one asking is YHWH.

Where a YHWH Passage Is Applied Directly to Yahshua

This is the quiet part of the study, and it may be the strongest. Here the writers of the Renewed Covenant take a passage that is explicitly about YHWH and apply it to Yahshua without hesitation or explanation.

Written about YHWH	Applied to Yahshua
Isaiah 40:3, prepare the way of YHWH	Matthew 3:3, Mark 1:3, Luke 3:4, John 1:23
Malachi 3:1, the Master will come to His temple	Mark 1:2, Matthew 11:10
Joel 2:32, whoever calls on the name of YHWH will be saved	Romans 10:9 to 13, Acts 2:21
Isaiah 45:23, to Me every knee will bow	Philippians 2:10 to 11
Zechariah 12:10, they will look to Me whom they pierced	John 19:37, Revelation 1:7
Psalms 102:25 to 27, addressed to YHWH the Creator	Hebrews 1:10 to 12, spoken by the Father to the Son
Isaiah 8:13 to 14, YHWH as the stone of stumbling	1 Peter 2:7 to 8, Romans 9:33
Exodus 3:14, I AM	John 8:58, and they picked up stones
The wilderness testing of YHWH	1 Corinthians 10:4 and 9, the Rock was Messiah

And then there is the verse that says it outright.

Isaiah 9:6

"For a child is born to us. A son is given to us; and the government will be on his shoulders. His name will be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty El, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace."

The child born is called Everlasting Father. Not a representative of the Father. Not an ambassador from the Father. Father.

Add Isaiah 7:14 with Matthew 1:23, Immanuel, El with us. And Zechariah 14:9, "YHWH will be one, and his name one."

The Visible Image of the Invisible

John 14:9 to 10

"He who has seen me has seen the Father... the Father who lives in me does his works."

Do not stop at the first half of that. The second half is the framework for everything else. The Son is the visible Man in whom the invisible Father dwells and works.

- John 10:30, "I and the Father are one."
- John 12:45, "He who sees me sees him who sent me."
- Colossians 1:15, "the image of the invisible Elohim."
- Colossians 2:9, "in him all the fullness of the Deity dwells bodily."
- Hebrews 1:3, "the radiance of his glory, the very image of his substance."
- John 1:1 and 14, the Word was Elohim, and the Word became flesh.
- Philippians 2:6 to 8, existing in the form of Elohim, He emptied Himself and took the form of a servant.

Worship that belongs to YHWH alone

- Matthew 14:33, the disciples in the boat worship Him.
- Matthew 28:9 and 17, worship after the resurrection.
- John 20:28, Thomas says "My Master and my Elohim," and Yahshua does not correct him.
- John 5:23, "that all may honor the Son, even as they honor the Father."
- Hebrews 1:6, "Let all the angels of Elohim worship him."
- Revelation 5:13 to 14, every created thing gives blessing and honor and glory to the One on the throne and to the Lamb.

Here is the contrast that settles it. In Revelation 19:10 and again in 22:8 to 9, John falls down to worship an angel and is sharply told to stop, because worship belongs to Elohim alone. In Acts 10:25 to 26 Peter pulls a man up off the floor. In Acts 14:11 to 15 Paul and Barnabas tear their clothes. Every righteous created being in Scripture refuses worship. The Lamb receives it, in the same book that forbids it, and no one stops it.

The Marriage, and Then the Divorce

You cannot understand a divorce until you have seen the wedding.

The marriage at Sinai

- Exodus 19:5 to 8, the proposal and her answer, "All that YHWH has spoken we will do."
- Exodus 24:3 to 8, the covenant confirmed in blood at the foot of the mountain.
- Jeremiah 2:2, "I remember for you the kindness of your youth, the love of your betrothals; how you went after me in the wilderness."
- Ezekiel 16:8, "I entered into a covenant with you, and you became mine."

The instructions given at Sinai are the terms of that marriage. This is why the prophets never call idolatry a policy failure. They call it adultery and prostitution, every single time. See Jeremiah 3:6 to 9, Ezekiel 16:15 to 34, and Hosea 2:2 to 13.

It is also why the cup at the Passover table is betrothal language and not the founding of a new religion. Matthew 26:27 to 29, "I will not drink of this fruit of the vine from now on, until that day when I drink it anew with you in my Father's Kingdom." That is a bridegroom's promise to return for the wedding.

The divorce

Jeremiah 3:8

"I saw, when, for this very cause that backsliding Israel had committed adultery, I had put her away and given her a certificate of divorce, yet treacherous Judah her sister didn't fear; but she also went and played the prostitute."

Three details matter, and most teaching blurs all three.

- The certificate went to the northern house, Israel, also called Ephraim. Not to Judah.
- Judah was never handed a certificate, yet Jeremiah 3:11 says she was worse.
- Isaiah 50:1 asks Judah directly, "Where is the bill of your mother's divorce, with which I have put her away?"

Both houses are broken. Only one of them is legally divorced. That distinction is why the restoration in Part Seven has to join two things back together and not simply repair one.

The northern house was then named Lo-Ruhamah, not shown mercy, and Lo-Ammi, not my people (Hosea 1:6 and 9), and scattered into the nations (2 Kings 17:6 to 23).

The Legal Problem, and the Only Lawful Answer

The instruction

Deuteronomy 24:1 to 4

A man puts his wife away with a certificate. She leaves and becomes another man's wife. If that second husband divorces her or dies, "her former husband, who sent her away, may not take her again to be his wife after she is defiled; for that is abomination before YHWH."

The bar is specific. It falls on the first husband, and it takes effect after she has belonged to another.

Jeremiah raises the problem himself

Jeremiah 3:1

"They say, 'If a man puts away his wife, and she goes from him and becomes another man's, should he return to her again?' Wouldn't that land be greatly polluted? But you have played the prostitute with many lovers; yet return again to me, says YHWH."

Read that slowly. YHWH quotes His own instruction. He acknowledges that it forbids the very thing He is about to do. And then He calls her home anyway, without yet explaining how.

That unexplained answer is the whole point of this study.

Stating the problem correctly

The question was never how the marriage ended. The covenant breaking and the certificate ended it. Jeremiah 3:8 says so plainly.

The question is how He can ever lawfully receive her back, when His own instruction bars the first husband from taking back a wife who has belonged to another, and when Isaiah 42:8 tells us He does not set His own standard aside to get what He wants.

The second lock on the same door

There is a second requirement, and it is even harder than the first. In Scripture the one who buys back a lost inheritance or a lost person is the go'el, the kinsman redeemer. The requirements are laid out in Leviticus 25:25 and 47 to 49, and acted out in the book of Ruth.

- He must be a near kinsman, an actual blood relation.
- He must be able to pay the full price.
- He must be willing to pay it.
- He must be free himself, not in the same bondage.

Psalm 49:7 to 8

"None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give Elohim a ransom for him, for the redemption of their life is costly."

Now put the constraints side by side.

The requirement	Who it rules out
No one but YHWH is Redeemer (Isaiah 44:24, 43:11)	Rules out every created being
YHWH stretched out the heavens alone, by Himself (Isaiah 44:24)	Rules out an agent acting on His behalf
The redeemer must be a blood kinsman (Leviticus 25)	Rules out a redeemer who never takes on flesh
No man can pay the ransom for a life (Psalm 49:7 to 8)	Rules out a merely human redeemer

The door is locked from both sides. The Redeemer must be YHWH, and the Redeemer must be a blood relative. There is exactly one way for both to be true at the same time. YHWH must become the kinsman. This is precisely what Hebrews 2:14 to 17 says He did, sharing in flesh and blood so He could break the power of death and become a merciful high priest.

The lawful path home

With both locks in view, the sequence is not mysterious. It is the only sequence available.

- The first husband dies. The bar of Deuteronomy 24:4 attaches to a living former husband. A dead man is not a first husband taking anyone back.
- He rises. Not as the former husband reclaiming a defiled wife, but as the living one, free to enter a new covenant with her.
- The covenant that follows is stated to be new, not the old one patched. This is exactly what was promised.

Jeremiah 31:31 to 32

"Behold, the days come, says YHWH, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah: not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers... which covenant of mine they broke, although I was a husband to them."

That is the answer to Jeremiah 3:1. And notice who it is made with. Both houses.

Paul reaches for the same principle in Romans 7:1 to 4, that death dissolves a binding obligation. He is drawing an illustration, not writing marriage legislation, so use it the way he used it. The principle holds either way. Death ends the binding.

The picture acted out in advance

Hosea 3:1 to 3

YHWH tells Hosea to go and love an adulterous wife again, and Hosea buys her back for fifteen shekels of silver and a homer and a half of barley.

The husband pays a purchase price to recover the wife who went to another. Centuries later, in the same language: Revelation 5:9, "you bought us for Elohim with your blood."

Hosea is the answer key handed to us long before the exam.

Two Houses, One Bride

The bride being gathered is not a replacement for Israel and never was. She is the divorced wife brought home from the nations and joined again to her sister.

- Hosea 1:10 to 11, in the place where it was said "you are not my people," they will be called sons of the living El, and the children of Judah and the children of Israel will be gathered together under one head.
- Hosea 2:23, "I will say to those who were not my people, 'You are my people.'"
- Romans 9:24 to 26, Paul quotes Hosea and applies it to those called from among the nations.
- 1 Peter 1:1 with 2:9 to 10, written to the scattered, "who in time past were no people, but now are Elohim's people."
- James 1:1, "to the twelve tribes which are in the Dispersion."
- Ezekiel 37:15 to 28, the two sticks become one in His hand, one king over them, an everlasting covenant, His dwelling among them.
- John 10:16, "I have other sheep, which are not of this fold... they will become one flock with one shepherd."
- John 11:51 to 52, He would die "that he might also gather together into one the children of Elohim who are scattered abroad."
- Ephesians 2:11 to 19, those once far off and alienated from the commonwealth of Israel are brought near, the dividing wall broken down, the two made one new man.
- Romans 11:17 to 24, grafted into the olive tree, with a warning not to boast against the branches.
- Isaiah 54:1 to 8, the forsaken wife called back: "For a small moment I have forsaken you; but with great mercies I will gather you."

Revelation 21:12 to 14 shows the finished bride as a city with the twelve tribes written on her gates and the twelve emissaries on her foundations. Both houses. One city. One bride.

The Hard Questions, Answered Honestly

A teaching that hides its difficult passages does not deserve to be believed. Here are the strongest objections and the most honest answers this study can give.

"He prayed to the Father. Who was He talking to?"

John 17, Matthew 26:39, Hebrews 5:7. The flesh is real, not theater. Philippians 2:7 says He emptied Himself and took the form of a servant. John 14:10 gives the framework in His own words, "the Father who lives in me does his works." A man genuinely praying is exactly what an incarnation looks like. This objection carries real weight and should never be waved off. Scripture calls this the mystery of godliness (1 Timothy 3:16) and asserts it far more than it explains it.

"The Father is greater than I." John 14:28

Read the whole verse and its setting. He speaks of going to the Father, in the emptied state of Philippians 2:7. Then set it beside John 10:30, "I and the Father are one," which came out of the same mouth in the same ministry.

"Not even the Son knows the day." Mark 13:32

The self limiting is real and Philippians 2:7 names it. This is a statement about the Son in the flesh, not about the eternal Spirit who fills Him.

"He sits at the right hand." Psalm 110:1, Acts 7:55 to 56

The right hand is a Hebrew idiom for the position of power, not a second chair. Exodus 15:6, "Your right hand, YHWH, is glorious in power." Revelation 22:1 and 3 speak of "the throne of Elohim and of the Lamb," one throne. Even so, Stephen sees two distinct things, and honesty requires saying that this is a hard passage. A vision shows the seer what he is able to bear.

"One mediator, the man Messiah Yahshua." 1 Timothy 2:5

Note the word man. The mediation happens through the flesh. The same letter speaks of Elohim manifested in the flesh. The Mediator is the Man in whom the fullness dwells bodily.

"The Word was with Elohim." John 1:1

The same verse ends "and the Word was Elohim." Whatever "with" carries, it cannot mean a second Elohim, because John 1:3 says all things were made through Him and Isaiah 44:24 says YHWH did it alone.

"Isaiah 44:6 mentions YHWH and His Redeemer separately."

The King of Israel and His Redeemer stand in apposition, two titles of the one speaker, which is why the sentence continues in the singular, "I am the first, and I am the last." Isaiah 44:24 does the same thing with Redeemer and Maker, and then says He acted alone.

Two verses this study will not lean on

Some teachers quote Luke 2:11 as "Messiah YHWH." The Greek reads Christos Kyrios, Messiah the Master, and no manuscript carries the Name there. It is a translator's choice, so it is offered here as an echo and never as proof. Others quote 1 Timothy 3:16 as "Elohim was manifested in the flesh." The older Greek manuscripts read "he who was manifested," a difference of two small marks inside one letter, and scholars are genuinely divided. Colossians 2:9 makes the same point with no dispute at all. A case this strong does not need contested verses, and refusing to use them is part of walking in truth.

The Whole Thing in One Page

If Yahshua is not YHWH:

- Israel has two husbands, which her own covenant terms forbid.
- A second savior exists, after YHWH said there is none besides Him.
- A second redeemer exists, after YHWH said He acted alone.
- A created being receives the worship and the glory YHWH said He would not share.
- The divorce of Jeremiah 3 stands forever, because the first husband can never lawfully take her back.
- There is no wedding, because the Bridegroom is not the Husband she was married to.

But because Yahshua is the Father in the flesh:

- The Husband became the kinsman, satisfying both locks on the door.
- The Husband paid the redemption price no man could pay.
- The Husband died, and death ends the binding.
- The Husband rose, free to make a covenant that is new and not the old one patched.
- The scattered house is called back and joined to Judah under one King.
- The Bridegroom is coming for a bride He is lawfully entitled to claim.

"I am the first and the last, and the Living one. I was dead, and behold, I am alive forever and ever." Revelation 1:17 to 18. The One who cannot be anyone but YHWH is the One who went into the grave for His wife.
